KIMOCON is now officially kitchen outfitter for Roamlike

- Roamlike, platform for vacation homes and kitchen platform KIMOCON start cooperation
- KIMOCON as the perfect partner for kitchens and smart home in vacation homes
- Roamlike members now have access to exclusive discounts on KIMOCON products

Pfullendorf / Cologne (Germany) July 15, 2020 – KIMOCON, the platform for the ergonomic and smart networked household from Pfullendorf in Baden-Württemberg, Germany, is now officially partner and part of Roamlike's brand offering. On Roamlike's rapidly growing platform, owners of vacation homes can obtain discounted furnishings for their flat or house and in return exhibit these products for advertising purposes. This way guests can easily use and test products during their stay. KIMOCON is the best possible supplier with whom Roamlike could have achieved its goals in the kitchen sector.

"We are proud to be represented on Roamlike as their supplier for kitchens. Both corporations believe in giving customers the best service as possible, which is why this partnership fits perfectly. Roamlike offers us a good opportunity to generate additional sales through an untapped customer group. The vacation apartment becomes essentially a showroom and provides potential customers with the opportunity to test our products – hands on. They will quickly realize that ergonomic and smart kitchens make life and living much easier", explains Christian Hartmannsgruber, founder and CEO of KIMOCON.

Jens Büschgens, Co-Founder of Roamlike, adds: "Having KIMOCON as a partner on our platform is great. Our concepts fit together perfectly: Roamlike offers a great support to vacation home owners with exclusive discounts and KIMOCON complements the existing product range for hosts. I am convinced that together we can offer a real added value for landlords, product manufacturers and especially for travel guests".

Owners of vacation apartments who are looking for a new kitchen for their home are able to purchase KIMOCON products from now on at special conditions through our discount system. The furnishing of the vacation home is thus much easier and additionally possible at fair prices for high quality brand products.

KIMOCON kitchens are available on the platform in various designs and price categories. From basic equipment to high quality, fully connected and smart kitchens. And depending on the requirements, even the entire kitchen can be designed ergonomically. "We are delighted to have BSH Hausgeräte GmbH with its strong brands Bosch, Siemens, Gaggenau, Neff and Constructa as one of our suppliers for household appliances. Roamlike customers will thus benefit from reliable and first-class products", Hartmannsgruber continues. The opportunity to experience kitchens live and to test them over a longer period of time is like that not available on the entire kitchen market. On a constantly changing market, KIMOCON scores with its individual solutions and services especially on this platform.

About KIMOCON
KIMOCON is a platform for future living. The company's philosophy incorporates the entire living space. Whether the ergonomic and connected kitchen, or bathroom and bedroom. All living areas should be merged spatially and functionally. KIMOCON combines aesthetics and technology, so that people not only have a nice place to live in, but are also enabled to live independently for longer in their own four walls.
